Part B: Website Case Studies

1. Midtown Dental

The first screenshot depicts Midtown Dental's landing page. The background image helps to capture user interest while the purple shade overlay helps to bring attention to the white text. Additionally, I like how the 'Book Appointment' selections are styled as white buttons, as it attracts the user's attention through the use of contrast. In my own design, I would like to incorporate similar button/colour contrast as well as background image overlays/filters to help direct the user's attention.

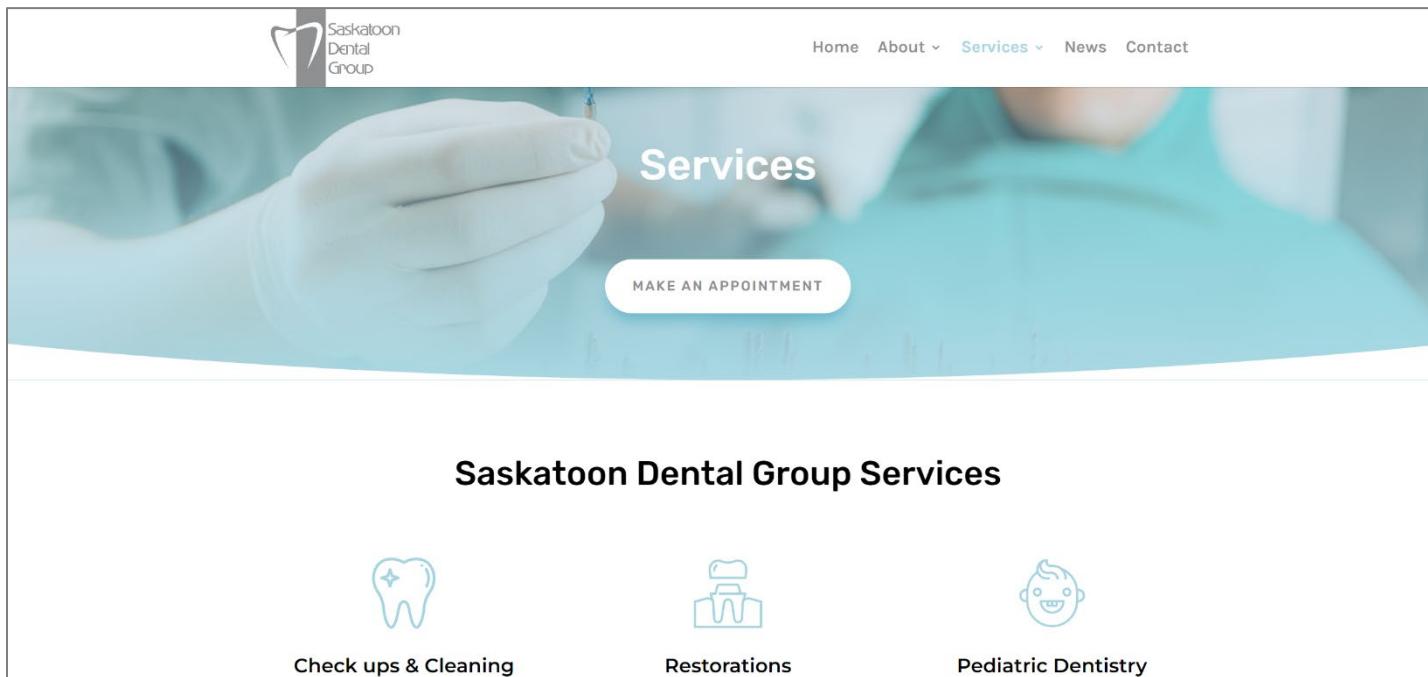

The screenshot shows the footer section of the website. It includes the "MIDTOWN DENTAL CLINIC" logo. Below it is a heading "Come Visit Us In Midtown Plaza" followed by the text "Centrally Located for Your Convenience Above Saskatoon's Premier Shopping Centre, Midtown Plaza" and a "Get Directions" link. There is also a "Book Appointment" button with a checkmark icon. On the right side, there are two columns: "Services" and "Our Clinic". The "Services" column lists: Dental Checkups, Dental Cleaning, Dental Esthetics, Dental Implants, Emergency Dental Care, Invisalign, Tooth Extractions, Root Canal Treatment, and Kidtown at Midtown Dental. The "Our Clinic" column lists: Home, Dental Services, Our Dentists, About, News, and Contact. At the bottom left is a Facebook social media icon.

The second screenshot depicts the website's ongoing footer. Here, I like that the footer includes all the page links from the top navigation bar (so the user doesn't have to scroll back to the top to switch pages) and that a short summary of the dentist office's information is included as well. However, I don't really like how the footer is fairly large and isn't boxed off in a separate-coloured container, as its visual similarity takes away from the main page content. In the footer of my site, I would like to include useful business info and navigation functionality while also keeping the footer concise, small in height, and visually distinct from the rest of the page.

2. Saskatoon Dental Group

The first screenshot depicts Saskatoon Dental Group's landing page. I don't think this design makes good use of colour, as the light blue has poor contrast against white/grey coloured text and page elements. While the use of the darker grey creates better contrast, it creates an imbalance and isn't very cohesive when used with the other pictured colours. In my own design, I should choose colour swatches with good contrast and cohesion to ensure my site has visual appeal and promotes good readability for the user.

The second screenshot depicts the top of the services page. I like the use of a banner image as a page header, as it adds visual appeal and visually separates the page from the top navigation bar (especially since they are the same colour). However, the layout and elements on this page are very similar to those from the landing page – while repetition can help with design cohesion, too much similarity can make the user feel as though they are viewing content they have already seen. In my own website, I would like to choose repetitive styles/elements – but in a conscious and refined way so as not to bore the user.

3. Wildwood Dental

The first screenshot depicts Wildwood Dental Clinic's landing page. Here, I like the idea of having a slim banner above the navigation bar with important business information, so the user doesn't have to go far to access this info. Personally, I find that the main navigation bar is too big and consumes too much space, which is caused by the logo being centered over top of the navigation links. In my own site, I think it would be valuable to include the top header with pertinent business information. However, I would like to opt for a smaller main navigation bar to minimize white space and visual distraction from the main page content.

The second screenshot depicts the dental services page, in which the page layout is sectioned into two uneven columns. While I think this is an interesting layout approach, the idea isn't executed very well; there is an unequal amount of content between the two columns, which generates excess whitespace on the one side and creates visual imbalance. However, I do like that the list of dental services uses a custom bullet point to add visual interest. In my own designs, I think it would be good to try page layouts with columns/sections and custom bullet points for list items.

The first screenshot depicts a sub-section on the main landing page, which highlights short summaries of the About, Services, and Contact pages. I like this design tactic, as the card layout provides contrast from standard paragraph text, increases readability and visual interest, and makes key information better accessible. I would like to consider incorporating a similar section into my own website's landing page, as it is a concise way to highlight and display information about other useful pages.

MEET OUR DENTISTS

Dentists with experience and care. Varsity Dental Group has 7 dentists to help you with your oral health care needs. We strive to provide excellence in a relaxed and calming atmosphere to give our patients a positive dental experience.

Dr. Raju Bhargava

After a brief time practicing dentistry in Northern B.C., Dr. Bhargava returned to his home province and has been practicing dentistry for over 20 years. Dr. Bhargava is one of the founding owners of Varsity Dental Group. His dedication is shown by his many years of service to the College of Dental Surgeons of Saskatchewan, teaching in the COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY and his time given to providing dentistry to seniors in LONG TERM CARE facilities. He previously owned and operated a dental clinic in Outlook, SK for 22 years. He will be available now full time at Varsity Dental Group to provide dental care to his many patients.

Dr. Adrienne Gallagher

Dr. Adrienne Gallagher has been providing dental care in Saskatoon for over 20 years. She started her own practice as one of the founding partners of Grosvenor Park Dental. She was a part-time faculty member at the College of Dentistry at the University of Saskatchewan for 10 years. She has worked hard to maintain a balance between her family and her professional career.

The second screenshot depicts the Dentists sub-section of the About Us page. While this is a pretty standard layout style, I think it has a clean presentation that lets the information speak for itself. Here, use of alignment and proximity allow clear content groupings to be present. Additionally, textual hierarchy through change in font size and weight adds readability and visual interest to the clutter-free design. In my own website, a layout option like this would be a good choice for displaying dental staff and their information. Additionally, careful choice in font size and weight is something I would like to focus on in my design to achieve clear textual hierarchy.

Patient-first Dental Clinic in Saskatoon

Westend Dental provides the highest level of dental care with a warm and welcoming touch.

Are you looking for a dental clinic that combines expertise with a warm and friendly approach? Then look no further than the team of highly skilled dentists at Westend Dental. Our dentists are not only experts in the latest dental techniques and technology, but they also prioritize building strong relationships with their patients. They understand the importance of clear communication and collaboration, working with patients to develop personalized treatment plans that suit their unique needs.

Dental Care and Emergency Dental Services

OUR DENTAL CLINIC OFFERS A WIDE RANGE OF PREVENTIVE CARE, RESTORATIVE CARE, GENERAL CARE, AND COSMETIC DENTISTRY SERVICES. ALL DESIGNED TO HELP PATIENTS ACHIEVE OPTIMAL ORAL HYGIENE AND BEAUTIFUL SMILES. WE ALSO USE ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY THAT ALLOWS FOR FASTER, LESS INVASIVE, AND MORE EFFICIENT ORAL CARE THAN EVER BEFORE.

5. Westend Dental

The first screenshot depicts a subsection on the main landing page which breaks down details about the different aspects of the business. While I like the cohesive colour palette, I feel that there is too much text content and poor consistency in font style and use of white space. Additionally, the center aligned text looks a little strange to the eye and the cursive heading text is too decorative, diminishing readability and the sense of a 'clean' design. For my own design, this example illustrates the importance of choosing clean fonts, sticking to similar font styling, and how center alignment may not be the best in all cases.

The second screenshot depicts the submission form for appointment requests. I like how the form layout is in two columns (as opposed to one), as it utilizes proximity and alignment to maximize the use of horizontal page space. However, I think it may be a bad idea to have a "Call Now" button directly next to the submit button, as the user may mistake this for the submit button and unintentionally phone the office. In my own design, I would like to utilize a similar form layout for a clean design, however I must ensure the user will have no issues with form submission through careful and logical placement of form elements.

We warmly welcome new patients to our office and do our best to accommodate short notice appointments.

AWARD WINNING

Our patients love us! We're an award winning clinic with great reviews online.

The first screenshot depicts a sub section on the main landing page. I think this section is valuable since it concisely and visually illustrates to the user the benefits of visiting this dental office. I especially like the use of icons and columns/alignment, as the information is clearly separated into readable chunks. In my own website design, I think it wouldn't be a bad idea to include a section like this on the landing page – though if anything, this example illustrates how effective it is to use icons, text hierarchy, and columns/groupings to break down information-heavy content.

We offer a full range of General Dentistry services at our office. Our goal is to make your next visit the best dental visit of your life!

NEW PATIENT HYGIENE + CHECKUP

The second screenshot depicts the layout of the services page, in which individual services are displayed in their own container and arranged as part of a larger grid layout. As opposed to a simple textual list, I feel that this layout method provides more visual stimulation/appeal and generally gives more breadth to the services section. Since I will need to make an entire services page in my own design, I feel that a design tactic such as this would help to make the page appear more full and complete (especially if there are only a few services to list).

7. Downtown Dental

The first screenshot depicts the website's main landing page, which seems to lack a modern appearance. The cluttered feel of the website is due to a multitude of design factors, including font selection/placement, image styling/alignment, and the presence of a large navigation bar. While this screenshot demonstrates some bad design practices, I do like that the navigation bar has styling to indicate which page the user is currently on – which I think would be a useful feature to include in my own website.

The second screenshot depicts the layout of the dental services displayed on the home page. While the individual boxes help differentiate each service from another, the background image behind these elements creates a more cluttered/busy look. While this compartmentalized layout is something I would like to potentially try in my design for displaying dental services, I think it would work better in conjunction with a plain background and some fine tuning of styling to better increase contrast and visual appeal. (ex. variety in font weight, colour contrast, more presence of white space, etc.)

What We Do

Check-ups and Dental Hygiene

Regular dental check-ups and cleanings are the foundation for a lifetime of good dental health. We believe the best treatment for good oral health for your whole family is preventative care. This includes regular visits that allow our dentists to assess the health of your teeth and gums; provide regular cleanings and fluoride treatments. We will also help you customize a schedule unique to your needs allowing for optimal oral health.

Preventative Care

We're here to help you ensure your oral health for years to come. Our preventive dentistry services include regular dental cleanings, sealants, and any procedures used to slow and stop tooth decay and oral diseases. Our goal is to keep you and your mouth as healthy and clean as possible so you can maintain your natural teeth for life.

Meet the Team

8. DTDXYE Dental

The first screenshot depicts the website's services page, in which I think it is neat how the page header has a curved background that appears to blend into the navigation bar (since it is the same colour). This screenshot shows good use of icons and columns to increase readability, as well as colour contrasting navigation links. I also like this style of displaying separate services without the use of individual boxes, which is an approach I may want to take since the design looks professional and clutter-free. However, as a user, I did find it a little annoying that there was no clear 'Home' page link in the navigation bar.

The second screenshot depicts the layout of the secondary team members on the 'About Us' page. I think the portrait grid is an effective layout for conveying key information, and so I think this would be a good design layout for me to consider using for displaying team members. However, from what I have seen from other sites, dentists are often displayed with larger biography text blocks, so this design layout wouldn't be most effective for displaying primary dentists (since there is limited text space). However, if I include secondary team members in my website, I think this would be a viable layout to utilize.

Service	Description	Learn More
Emergencies	We can help treat a full range of dental emergencies.	Learn More
Sedation Dentistry	For a safe, anxiety free experience.	Learn More
Wisdom Teeth	Eliminate current or future pain.	Learn More
Dentures	Restore your smile with dentures!	Learn More

9. Regina Dental

The first screenshot depicts a summary breakdown of the services on the website's landing page. I like that this design accomplishes clear content groupings without the use of visual boxes, however the text content is so minimal here that it almost serves no informative purpose. Additionally, it is a bit of a distraction that the one button is not aligned at the same height as all the rest. If I made use of a design like this to display dental services, I would widen the images/columns and allow a greater amount of useful textual information to be displayed (especially if individual services don't link to their own separate pages).

Information	Content
Contact Our Normanview Crossing Location	First name Last name Email* Phone number*
Phone	(306) 924-8407
Directions	398 McCarthy Boulevard North Regina, SK, S4X 4R3
Hours	Monday: 8:00am – 4:30pm Tuesday: 8:00am – 4:30pm Wednesday: 8:00am – 2:00pm Thursday: 8:00am – 4:30pm Friday: 7:00am – 12:00pm
Fax	(306) 924-5728

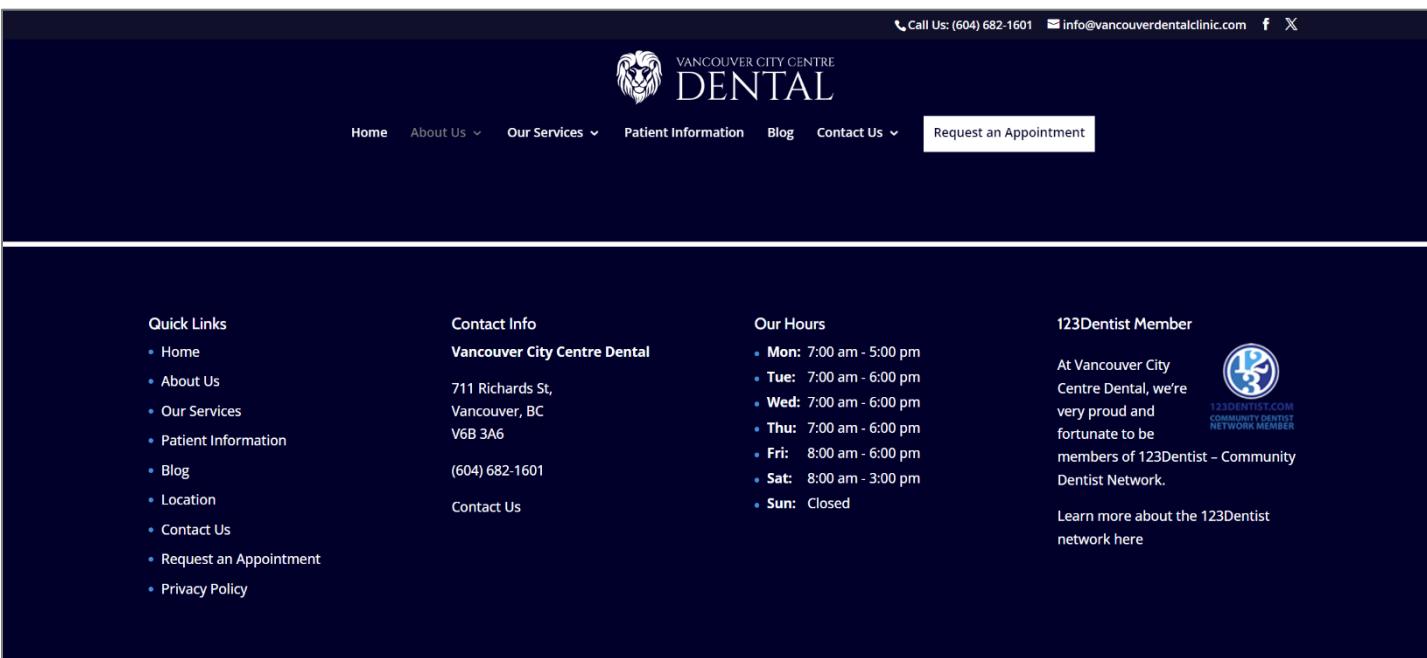

Below the contact form, there is a reCAPTCHA field and a "Submit" button. A blue accessibility icon is located in the bottom right corner of the form area.

The second screenshot depicts the layout of the contact page, in which I like how the design puts the dental office's information in a column beside the vertical contact form to make better use of horizontal white space. Additionally, I think it is useful for the user to indicate required fields in the contact form as is shown in this screenshot. However, if I follow a layout like this for my own contact page, I think it would be wise to either reorganize the form fields or shrink down the form width – right now, the fields appear oddly too large (especially for short inputs like a first name).

10. Vancouver Dental

The first screenshot depicts the landing page for the website, in which the full-width slideshow effectively greets the user with its professional visual appeal. Since a slideshow is one of the client requirements for this assignment, this is one viable option for placement of the slideshow that I may want to choose. However, utilizing the image carousel as a background for other content takes the focus away from the images. For this reason, I think it may be better to implement the slideshow as a standalone element in my own site.

The second screenshot depicts the footer of the website, in which I like how information here is clearly sectioned off in different columns for better readability. While the footer text could use minor tweaks to improve textual hierarchy, I like that this footer is enclosed in its own coloured-box and that it also includes business hours (as opposed to the footer of the Midtown Dental website). In my own website's footer, I would like to utilize a very similar column layout to display much of this similar information – though I would like to do so in a way that does not make the footer noticeable large (like in this screenshot).
